Nineteen Forty Five

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million (1990–1999) (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health care needs of older people. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a strategy for the NHS to meet the needs of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to ensure that older people have access to the services they need; (2) to ensure that older people are treated as individuals; (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect; (4) to ensure that older people are treated as equal; (5) to ensure that older people are treated as active citizens; (6) to ensure that older people are treated as equal; (7) to ensure that older people are treated as equal; (8) to ensure that older people are treated as equal; (9) to ensure that older people are treated as equal; (10) to ensure that older people are treated as equal.

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased by 20% (Meltzer 1997).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the importance of the role of the community in this. The World Health Organization (WHO) has developed the concept of 'recovery' as a goal for mental health care, and has emphasized the importance of the role of the community in this (WHO 1993). The concept of 'recovery' is defined as 'the process of achieving a state of well-being and self-fulfilment, and the ability to lead a meaningful life' (WHO 1993).

The concept of 'recovery' is a key concept in the development of mental health services, and is central to the development of the 'recovery model' of mental health care. The recovery model is a model of mental health care that emphasizes the importance of the role of the community in the recovery process, and the importance of the role of the individual in this. the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the importance of the role of the community. The National Health Service (NHS) has a commitment to the development of community mental health teams, and the Department of Health has set out a strategy for the development of community mental health services (Department of Health 1999). The strategy aims to ensure that people with mental health problems are able to live in the community, and that they are able to access the services they need. The strategy also aims to ensure that people with mental health problems are able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.

The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) people with mental health problems should be able to live in the community; (2) people with mental health problems should be able to access the services they need; (3) people with mental health problems should be able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives; (4) people with mental health problems should be able to live a full and active life; (5) people with mental health problems should be able to contribute to the community.

1945

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
OF 1945
RENSSELAER HIGH SCHOOL—RENSSELAER, INDIANA.

Watch out for

Jerry and Tardy Tom, the clock gremlin, are pals.

No one can hurry him, not even the gals.

Books on the floor, lockers opened wide,

Bumps on your head, bruises where you slide.

My report card—nothing it conceals—

For Murderous Mike, a gremlin, my ignorance reveals.

the Gremlins!

Gremlins, gremlins everywhere. They were first created by the Royal Air Force and then spread all over the world. Finally some arrived at R. H. S.

What mischievous things they cause one to do. Haven't you heard? Listen to the noise in the hall. That's Chattering Chic and Running Runt. Their favorite trick is to make you forget where you are and then cause you embarrassment when asked to be quiet.

These same gremlins, by name Tardy Tom and Poky Pete, turn back your clocks and put glue in your eyes when it's time to come to school. How did they get in your house? In your pocket of course.

There are also a few good gremlins. They're the ones who help you guess the right answers on your test. They are the ones who were the source of inspiration for the 1945 Chaos. The staff found them lurking up in the Sunshine room the day the pictures were taken. They were in the gym, in the classrooms and on the campus. Do you know Sweet Sal, Good Joe, and Athlete Al?

They'll get you!

BOARD OF EDUCATION

William Campbell
President

Dr. Harry English
Treasurer

D. Delos Dean
Secretary

To those who feel, and do not remain mere cogs in a wheel, this Board of Education is a real and efficient public servant. It cannot be emphasized too much that in such times as the present to serve on a board as this is a difficult and trying job. The students and faculty of the Rensselaer City Schools take pride in the efficient operation of their educational system made possible by the interest of its Board of Education. We wish to thank these administrative leaders for their assistance and help.

ADMINISTRATION

Robert L. Cleaveland
Superintendent

Loyal D. Hoshaw
Principal

SUPERINTENDENT ROBERT L. CLEAVELAND is a man of directness, economy, and discipline. He believes in the young people of our country whose future founded on freedom and individualism must be guaranteed. The fact is indisputable that his energetic enthusiasm for all the students has done much to promote scholarship, leadership and strong healthy bodies.

PRINCIPAL LOYAL D. HOSHAW returned to R. H. S. in the fall of 1944 after serving in the armed forces for two years. We welcome him back with pleasure. Mr. Hoshaw's amiable and courteous manner endears him to the students and faculty of R. H. S. Another of his attributes is his understanding of students when acting as their friend and counselor.

Most people have never actually seen a gremlin, but those who place an unreasonable importance between fact and fancy have begun to wonder if these creatures actually exist. The students of R. H. S. have tried to blame their lack of memory on the gremlins, and not their forgetfulness. Besides causing loss of memory, the gremlins have made students fall asleep, prepare wrong assignments, and write wrong answers in tests. They cause teachers to call on you when you have just deposited a fresh stick of gum in your mouth. They are little imps that harass the student constantly.

Seniors

Four years ago as impish freshmen we entered these ivy-covered halls of R. H. S. As green freshmen the gremlins were quite a stumbling block to us. They caused us to lose our way, get wrong assignments, and usually led us to the office. During our Sophomore and Junior years we learned that gremlins needn't be a hindrance but a great help. They helped us put on a successful junior play and gave us ideas for decorating for the Junior Prom. They were in the audience applauding for "A Full House." We never could have gained our bond goal if these helpful little pixies hadn't whispered in everyone's ear that it was their patriotic duty to help the Seniors do their part and help them purchase a F6F Grumman Hellcat Fighter for our Armed Forces.

With reluctance we bid our farewell to the students, faculty, and roguish imps of R. H. S.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Despite the many efforts of the gremlins against them, most members of the class of "46" have triumphantly reached their Junior year in R. H. S. And what a year it's been! The little imps of luck have favored us this year. The football season found many of our boys helping the gremlins carry the ball over the goal. In our basketball the little oafs helped the Juniors score many points. Many of our members have been active in the Youth Center, in fact, the gremlin that originated the idea lived in one of our classmate's head. Two of the three first team yell leaders are proud members of our class. We kept a whole army of gremlins busy the night of our first real stage production, the annual Junior play. But in spite of forgotten lines and last minute cues the gremlins' efforts at sabotage failed. Of course this year as in all years, the school's festive season closed with the Junior Prom. Luscious Lady and Gentleman Jim reigned Supreme that night.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Have you heard about the biggest achievement of "Class of '47"? It is that we are now very well represented on the starting line up of the basketball team. During the season Glen Bahler, center; Ken Shoup and George Smith, forwards; and Byrom Malone, guard; were on the starting line up. Clifford Beaver and Buster Smith are two more sophomores who were substitutes. We were also well represented in football.

Certain little "imps," gremlins to you, caused a lot of confusion at our class meetings. Johnnie Barnes had quite a time trying to call the meeting together with the gremlins tripping all over the tops of the desks.

We made posters and banners (with the aid of "Helpful Hanna") for the Crown Point football game which, with all our aid from "Fumbling Fred," we lost.

We now have 79 gremlins in our class. They are watched over at class meetings by Mr. Bundy and Mrs. Stump.

THE FRESHMEN CLASS

Ninety-two freshmen gremlins enrolled in Rensselaer High School to begin the school term. Two-thirds of the elkins came "fresh" from Hanging Grove, Jordan, Marion, Newton, and South Barkley. After they were duly initiated by the upper-classmen, they settled down to the intricacies of algebra and Latin. Seventeen went out for football and each hoped to be a future "Red Grange." Twenty-three signed for basketball and will possibly make the team next year.

The girls were initiated into the Dolly Madison Club, G. A. A., and Sunshine Society. Boys went into F. C. A., F. F. A., and Hi-Y. Several joined the Science and Math Club. Two boys are reporters for the Rensselaerian. Eleven are in the band. Many belong to the chorus.

The freshmen are not as "green" as on September fourth and gradually the knowledge is "soaking in." The members of the class of '48" want to make their contributions as memorable as those of classes of years past, and they hope to live up to the reputation established for them in R. H. S.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

Have you ever heard of a finifella? Well it's a female gremlin. The one hundred and five Sunshiners depend on the assistance of our impish pixies. Don't they whet the appetites of our starving customers who buy our cones and hot dogs? Don't they lend a hand and give us courage to ask our latest heart-throb to the Sunshine dance? The Sand Gremlin is denied admittance to our slumber party. They fly around in the gym the day of our tea which honors our mothers and cause us to look and act our very best. Yes, the finifellae have been quite busy around R. H. S.

HI-Y

Gremlinologists have created certain gremlins whose special care is a select group of R. H. S. boys. They are members of Hi-Y. There is a certain oaf who hitches himself to the master of ceremonies at their dinner dance and whispers poetic and witty thoughts in his ears. What master salesmen these boys are! Pencils and cokes are their specialties. Some of the members were plagued by these pixies and initiated the "freshies" before school started. At the crucial moment they stopped and a well planned initiation resulted.

F. F. A.

Neither excessive drought nor rain aggravates the F.F.A. boys as much as some impish little pixies. They cause the tools to be misplaced, gates to be left opened, weeds to grow, and numerous other hardships. They seem to gang up on the farmers and do a really perfect job of disarranging their plans. The very young ones, widgets, harass the cattle and poultry. They like to tease the farmers and are often heard to say "Don't work so hard, you idiot." In this day of all out production of food, the farmers have succeeded in conquering these annoying pixies.

DOLLY MADISON

The Dolly Madison girls have a pet peeve all their own, in the form of an impish little gremlin, Sloppy Sue. Sloppy Sue forgets to turn off the burners, leaves banana peels on the floor, and causes troubles galore. Sloppy Sue's sister, Tidy Tess, usually makes up for Sue's mistakes. She hits the sweet-tooth of all the students, especially boys, at Christmas time with her candy; she makes the Christmas dance a success with her novel decorations, and puts the mustard on the hot dogs at the New Year's Tourney. Of course every one saw Tidy Tess trimming the Christmas Tree.

Tidy Tess was aided, however, in overcoming Sloppy Sue by:

G. A. A.

Athletic Alice is G. A. A.'s fifinella mascot. She is always present at their Thursday night get togethers. She amuses herself by sitting on the trapeze with a hammer tapping knuckles, giving you a shove when you just about reach the top of the rope, and making you either miss the birdie while playing aerial dart or hit it so hard it goes out of bounds.

The funeral of Aloyiusus Mathew Point was planned by Athletic Alice for a pep session.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Those adventuresome little pixies, the Cosmopolitan Gremlins, have been busy this year helping the members of the R. H. S. Cosmopolitan Club. In the many meetings of the club, numerous speakers have brought before the members interesting and little known facts about different countries. The members of the club have also participated in different school activities. At several of the basketball games club members checked coats. The annual Christmas program was sponsored by this organization. The Cosmopolitan Club is succeeding admirably in its initial purpose of fostering good will on the part of the students toward distant lands.

YE EDITOR'S PAGE

Producing a high school annual is normally a difficult task. The job this year was doubly difficult because of the presence of 9,999,999 Gremlins—busy little buzzards—who caused the staff countless agonies. There were also some Gremlins who proved a help. They were ever present whispering bright little ideas in our ears and reminding us constantly that we wanted our 1945 CHAOS to be the most memorable in the long history of its publication.

THE RENSSELAERIEN

This year our school paper was published bimonthly. Many serious articles appeared from time to time, but humor was also given adequate space. The most popular columns were prepared by Gremlin, Gossip Grace, who delighted in revealing the latest heartthrob of Good Joe, Sad Sal or the intimate secrets of the coke crowd. It was fun publishing these memorable documents. Hope you liked them.

BAND AND CHORUS

The specie of gremlin connected with the band is known as malae musical gremliniae. These gremlins have many disguises. They have been known to masquerade as extra notes and even extra measures. One peculiar characteristic of these pixies, however, is that they are invisible to all but the owner of the music on which they are hiding. During the band's several concerts many gremlins were discovered sleeping on the bells of horns. Another favorite pastime of these nymphs is that of jumping on the keys and playing a sour note in the middle of a pause. Even Mr. Lucas has a little trouble with the gremlins pulling his baton in the wrong direction.

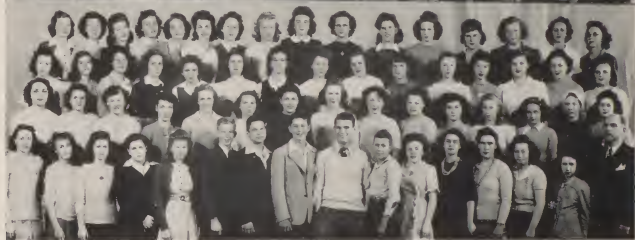

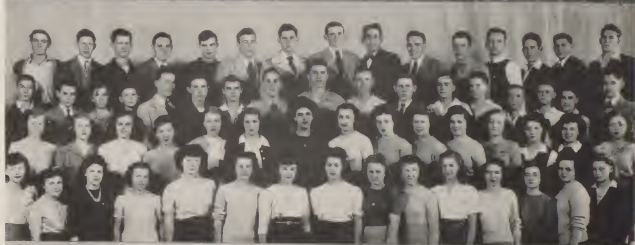

The musical gremlins listen in despair to the beautiful blending of voices in the R. H. S. Chorus, for, despite all their efforts they have been unable to still the voices of this group. Once in a while their diabolical schemes do succeed, however. The sopranos know only too well that these imps sometimes break a high note by jumping on it. (This procedure is followed only during concerts.) Every chorus member knows these pixies add the extra notes and all the wrong ones. The chorus appeared in several programs during the winter. It is under the direction of Mr. Lucas.

SCIENCE AND MATH

Although most gremlins are just plain, conventional gremlins, there are some ~~unorthodox~~ types who do specialist work. These assist the members of the Science and Math Club. Big-eared ones listen for static and defects in their sensitive radio equipment. Sharp-eyed gremlins lurk about spotting errors in their math problems. Some of the more devilish pixies cause explosions and incorrect answers. The members of this club worked hard and overcame these evil influences. Their time was profitably spent studying radio and photography.

F. C. A.

The Future Craftsmen were on the verge of using "gremlin gas" on the bad ones of the bunch who were always moving nails and causing numerous sore thumbs. At night they slipped in and planed wood down to the wrong size. After sweeping the floor "Sawdust Sam" threw dirt on the floor just to make them clean it up. Certain ones causes the dulling of saws and such tools and break lead in pencils in mechanical drawing. Then they spill ink on finished drawings. Others would take "stickum good" out of the glue and switch the tools in the tool room. "Nail Head Ned" made the nails bend when removing them from the boards. "Build 'em Up Bob" finally led in the fight and the boys made many nice pieces of furniture.

Sports

Do you really want to know why Rensselaer lost so many games this year? It wasn't the team's fault—each player did his best. It was because Dirty Dick, a self-appointed mascot and conniving gremlin, loitered about our goal posts and the rim of our baskets. When the team traveled, so did Dirty Dick, in the manager's little black bag. Now Dirty Dick does not like to stay very long in any one place, so we hope that he'll move over to Remington or Brook or some other conference rival next year.

If you don't believe Dirty Dick is a tricky little gremlin, see him at work on the opposite page.

FOOTBALL - 1944

The season of '44 showed the gremlins working against us. "Buckin' Bill," the charging gremlin, helped our opponents slip through our line for many gains. "Slippery Slim" rubbed wax on the ball so set kicks would miss. The boys were working hard but the gremlins such as "Intercepting Ike" and "Trippin' Tom" helped the other teams. There were some good gremlins who aided our team and "Cheering Charlie" gave them plenty of spirit. Certain gremlins switched helmets and other equipment just for spite. "Hurry-up Harry" always rushed the clock. "Whispering Willie" told the opposing team our plays so they were ready for the boys of good old R. H. S. Capt. Phil Robinson led the boys in the battle against the gremlins who were against us in six out of seven games.

THANK OR CUSS THE GREMLINS

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased by 20% in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1997).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the importance of the role of the community in this. The World Health Organization (WHO) has developed a number of initiatives to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the United Nations has also developed a number of initiatives to address the needs of people with mental health problems (WHO 1993, UN 1994).
